

Tom Willis

Speaker Introduction

Tom believes everyone is born with unlimited potential - a conviction forged in the crucible of teaching middle school students, where he witnessed the paradoxical combination of adolescent chaos and surprising brilliance daily.

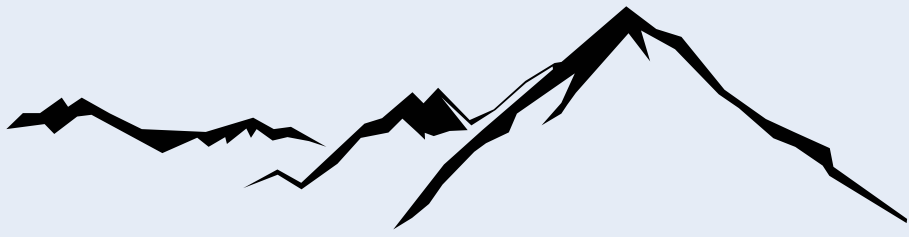

His life mission is helping others ascend the mountain of self-discovery. Like the peaks he climbs, life & leadership provide perspective. The summit reveals both the challenging path behind and the possibilities ahead.

With his team at Phoenix Performance Partners, he transforms organizational cultures using straightforward approaches. He's been a CEO, consultant, and engineer - a trifecta that makes him almost capable of assembling IKEA furniture.

He's got fancy degrees from Michigan and Notre Dame, but his greatest accomplishments remain his faith, his wife, and three children who ensure his leadership skills face rigorous daily testing in the laboratory of family life.

Please join me in providing a warm welcome to Tom Willis!
